MESSAGE

With profound joy and appreciation, I extend my heartfelt congratulations to the Institute of Youth Affairs, Kolkata on organising the 12th National Integration Camp at Assam University, Silchar, from 24 to 31 December 2025.

India's youth, vibrant and dynamic, are the architects of our nation's future. Their energy, creativity, and sense of purpose are central to building a Golden India—a nation defined by prosperity, inclusivity, innovation, and global leadership.

It is truly inspiring to witness young minds convening under the powerful theme "Empowerment of Youth for Golden India." This camp offers an ideal platform to nurture leadership, foster unity, and instil values that will shape responsible citizens committed to national development.

Our journey toward a Viksit Bharat must be guided by pillars such as quality education, technological innovation, social justice, environmental sustainability, and ethical governance. I am confident that the youth participating in this camp will emerge more empowered, ready to contribute meaningfully to this transformative journey.

I commend the organisers for their dedication to youth development and national integration. May this camp serve as a catalyst to inspire leadership, unity, and service among our future nation-builders.

My best wishes for the resounding success of this meaningful endeavour.
